

Don't climb the ladder alone!
Become a part of the

Chemistry Women Mentorship Network

ChemWMN is a national network of women in academic chemistry dedicated to providing support, encouragement, and mentorship for young women considering careers in academia. With a growing group of over 40 female faculty at graduate and undergraduate institutions and national labs across the US and Canada, you will find one-on-one mentorship and resources to help navigate your academic career.

For more information visit us online:
faculty.washington.edu/cossairt/WMN/WMN_Home.html

or request information by email:
chemWMN@gmail.com